.Success With Math

Success with Math works with the student every step of the way. Easily understood, on-screen instructions illustrate the step-by-step process of problem solving used throughout each program. Errors are identified as they occur and the student is directed to the source of the mistake before continuing on. An error analysis at the end of each problem helps to monitor overall progress. Problems are generated at random with new ones appearing each time the program is run. (Req. disk drive).

LIGHTSPEED C DEVELOPMENT SYSTEM

Lightspeed C is a C compiler for the 8-bit Atari that supports most, but not all all of the standard C definition. Floating point is handled through 6 member character arrays and 17 floating point functions . Lightspeed C supports all the binary and unary operators except those dealing with structures and unions and included a syntax checking editor.

The compiler is 10-15 times faster than Deep Blue C, the linker is 5 times faster, and programs run 2-3 times faster. Lightspeed C comes with a standard I/O library containing over 100 functions written in assembly language including specific routines for graphics, player missiles, joystick, paddles and more. Included 4 single sided disks and a 72 page manual. (ATD311) $35.95

CLSN PASCAL (REQ. 128K)

With CLSN Pascal you will step into the world of higher level structured languages and discover many of the advantages they have over BASIC. At the same time you will not be subject to constantly swapping disks and reloading a compiler and editor in order to get a program running. CLSN Pascal is designed to circumvent all those difficulties giving you a complete, integrated programming environment.

The manual is not meant to be a Pascal tutorial, but rather a point of reverence for this particular dialect of Pascal along with the inside technical information of CLSN Pascal.

If desired, the Editor could effectively be used as a wordprocessor or as an editor for other high level languages. The Editor is fully screen oriented. Assembly can be started directly from the Editor.

The Assembler translates in three passes. If an error is encountered the assembler stops and returns to the Editor with the Cursor at the position, where corrections can be made immediately. The Assembler interprets all existing opcodes of the 65xx language set as well as a few pseudo opcodes. It translates 12k of source code in about 5 seconds. Extensive manual included.

ship did not arrive at Axia. What has happened to Earth? The entire colony has been caught in a wave of desperate concern and wild speculation, for without Earth's assistance, a technological deterioration will certainly ensue.

Fifteen days ago, evidence of a second Hyperspace Booster, lost somewhere in the Local Group, surfaced. Discovery of this second Booster would renew contact with Earth; failure to find the Booster would mean the eventual destruction of the colonies. You and your colleagues have decided to search for it.

Two hundred years ago, your ancestors came from Earth to Axia, the central planet in a cluster of stars known as the Local Group. They traveled via Earth's prized Hyperspace Booster, a highly advanced relic capable of propelling matter through space in one thousand light year strides. Using the power of the Booster, Earth has continued to send spacecraft carrying her latest technological advances, trained personnel, and colonists.

These shipments from Earth are strictly one way, for the Local Group has no Booster, and is unable to transmit messages back to Earth. For two hundred years, Earth has been dispatching spacecraft based only on the faith in the colonists' ability to survive. And the colonists, deep in space, have awaited the arrival of each expected spacecraft, firm in their belief that the ships would always come.

Four months ago, the regularly scheduled

Your search takes you through a multitude of star systems and planets, using true three dimensional flight, orbits, and orbital transfers. But your voyage will not be free. You must earn money to maintain spacecraft and crew. You will need to use your shop for passenger transport, mining, trading in exotic goods, or, for the desperate, piracy. You may need to defend yourself, for there are others who are eager for profit and power. You will have to construct the spacecraft most suited to your endeavor and decide what is needed to survive in deep space while contending with unknowns.

This real time game, with hundreds of kilobytes of data, features intelligent enemy ships and total control of on-board facilities such as computers, high-resolution scanners, weapons, assault capsules, ore processors, orbital shuttles, rescue pods, and much more!

BATTLEZONE™

Defend the Earth against a vicious fleet of space invaders!

It's 1999, and all the nations of Earth have agreed to world peace.

But power-hungry rebels have sent out a huge fleet of robot war machines. These pitiless machines will annihilate the planet and turn it into a lifeless landscape. They must be stopped. It's up to you to save the world!

The one defensive weapon left on Earth is a vintage military tank. It's your only hope for searching out enemy machines and destroying them. Outmaneuver and defeat rebel supertanks and flying saucers. Watch your radar. Listen for enemy fire. Take evasive action behind futuristic objects. Maintain your nerves of steel.

Your tank can maneuver in every direction and turn a full 360 degrees. The cockpit computer displays a radar scanner and strategic defense information. You can triumph. You must. Because the future of the planet depends upon your agility, skill, and defiance. Five skill levels challenge even the most sophisticated tank commander.

Explosive Espionage Action!

There it stands before you, barely visible against the night sky: the secluded EAGLE'S NEST, a highly fortified garrison stronghold posing a major threat to your advancing armies. It MUST be destroyed before the enemy can launch its counter-offensive.

A three-man team was captured during an earlier failed sabotage attempt. Intelligence reports suggest that they managed to plant explosives throughout the fortress before they were overpowered.

You must enter the fortress, rescue your three comrades, ensure the Eagle's Nest's destruction by locating and triggering the explosive devices on all four floors, and make your escape.

Your main offensive will commence at "E" Hour plus Four, by which time Eagle's Nest MUST be destroyed!

Good luck... We're depending on you!

Ballblazer™

Become the ultimate champion of the universe

The year is 3097...you are the contestant in the fastest, most competitive, and by far the most popular sport in the universe. You and your opponent are strapped into Rotofoils™, hovercraft-like vehicles that skim the surface of the playfield at speeds of up to 50 meters a second. Your objective is simple—score the most points during the timed competition and be declared the champion. Your task, however, is a bit more complex.

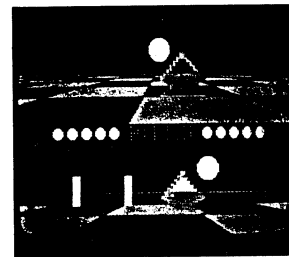

At the speed you're traveling, firing the Plasmorb™ through your opponent's goal takes more than just skill and timing. Do you want to take an Over-the-Horizon Shot™ worth three points, or get within sight of the goal for a two-point attempt? Your safest bet is to push it through, but this takes up precious time and is only worth one point. Think fast, because this is a two-player game and your opponent is making the same decisions...or is he?

Ballblazer features two-player simultaneous play, with first-person perspective for both players. Three playing modes are available: Regulation Game, Practice Mode, and Spectator Mode.

Ballblazer offers the type of two-player head-to-head competition you've been waiting for. Three minutes, two players, one victor!

Lode Runner™

Blast through the enemy stronghold to recover the gold!

You are a highly trained Galactic commando deep in enemy territory. Power-hungry leaders of the repressive Bungeling Empire have stolen a fortune in gold from the peace-loving Galactans. You've just discovered the enemy's secret underground treasure hoard. Your mission: Infiltrate each of the 75 different subterranean levels, evade the Bungeling guards, and recover every last batch of Bungeling booty.

Run, jump, climb, and blaze your way through mazelike catacombs. You must recover all of the gold. Some of it is hidden in walled-over rooms and dangerous dead-ends or invisibly carried by the guards.

Your only defense is your laser drill pistol. Trap the Bungeling guards in freshly-drilled pits and force them to surrender any gold chests they protect. Don't get trapped yourself! Collect all of the gold in a level, then advance towards the surface and freedom!

You'll never run out of imaginative and cunning adventures, because built into Lode Runner's unique program is an option that lets you create your own fascinating challenges. You can actually build your own puzzles and scenes. No programming knowledge is required.

ARCHON™

The Light and The Dark

A magical medieval playing field, rendered on the landscape of an overgrown chessboard, looms before you. Within this mystical area are phoenixes, golems, and wizards. Like magical beings, their powers change as they move from square to square. When two opponents meet, the board explodes into a battlefield.

Your pieces use their awesome powers to fight banshees, goblins, and sorceresses. They cast spells and missiles; they pummel, pierce, and throw flames. They even take on each other's shapes and characteristics. You will need all your skill, dexterity, and wisdom to control and guide your side.

Your magic rises and ebbs with the board's luminosity cycle. As the light changes, so does your power. You must race against time and use your strength effectively.

Archon is a contest of action and strategy between opposing forces wrought from myth and legend. The Light Side and the Dark Side are equal in force, balanced in strength. Though they are not identical, their goals are the same. Each side exists to conquer, by eliminating all of the opposing pieces or controlling the five power points.
